CABARITA DISTRICT INFORMATION & FACILITIES

CABARITA is an Aboriginal word meaning 'By the Water' and this picture-perfect micro-suburb lives up to its name - literally, surrounded by water. Few suburbs can boast their very own pristine 200metre golden sandy beach, full-size Marina, Harbourside swimming complex, harbour-view parklands and heritage sites and architecture.

Just 16km from the CBD you can also quickly connect to all major arterials by road. With buses virtually at the door, and Jetcat Wharf close by, you have enviable access to both the Parramatta and Sydney CBDs.

There is a bewildering choice of kindergarten, primary and secondary schools (public and private) to suit all Family needs, a wide range of shopping options within easy access, innumerable sporting facilities and fields, and a lively café and dining scene.

This Lifestyle suburb has a vast range of health and fitness options – just walk out your front door and onto harbourside cycling/walking/jogging tracks plus swimming, boating and kayaking, beachcombing and birdwatching spots.

History & Heritage

Edgewood is one of two foundation village precincts that transformed Cabarita from an industrial and factory wasteland to a modern communal village on the shores of Hen and Chicken Bay from 2000. The area now is entirely zoned for residential and parkland. Huge swamps were reclaimed and converted into the District's Golf Clubs.

Correy's Market Garden, established in 1880 is commemorated today with Correy's House, a heritage building incorporated into the Edgewood community and including the swimming pool, gym and management HQ for the complex.

- The stretch of River at Cabarita was famous for Regattas including the GPS Head of the River.
- Australia's most legendary Rower – William Beach, undefeated Champion Single Sculler of the World – has his own parkside statue.
- The Federation Pavilion – where the Commonwealth of Australia was first proclaimed (1901) – was moved to Cabarita Park from Centennial Park in 1903.
- France Bay, Exile Bay and Canada Bay are named after French-Canadian exiles held near here in a stockade.
- Cabarita Park was upgraded in 2018 with new children's playground, upgraded walks and parking and extensive lighting and security cams, making this one of the most secure after-hour suburbs in Sydney.
